

Social and Personal

Weddings without number will occupy the attention of society to-day throughout the State. The first week in June will mark some very important nuptials and distinguished guests from all parts of the country will be in attendance. Two weddings of decided interest to society to take place to-day are those of Miss Minerva Haskins and Miss Frances Myers. Miss Haskins' marriage to Thomas Kingsford takes place this evening at "Meadow Brook," and will be a very large and fashionable event. Some thirty affairs have been given in honor of the bride-elect. Mrs. Nell Dunlop Sills, formerly Miss Waller Jeffers, entertained yesterday afternoon at her home at Westhampton in honor of Miss Haskins.

Miss Myers' wedding will be celebrated quietly at James McDonald Wellford at her parents' home, 913 West Franklin Street, this evening at 6 o'clock. Owing to illness in the family, invitations for the reception following the ceremony were recalled.

An interesting event of this evening will be the marriage of Miss Katherine Steger Hoge, daughter of Mr. Steger Hoge, D. Hoge, and Andrew Jamieson, of Danville, son of Mrs. Robert Jamieson. The ceremony will take place at the home of the bride, 1601 West Grace Street, at 6:30 o'clock, and will be witnessed by only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom, with guests coming in at 7 o'clock for the reception. Dr. Edmund Harrison, the bride's grandfather, will perform the ceremony. The decorations will be in yellow and white flowers and immense baskets of yellow daisies and ferns will be used throughout the house, with palms and Southern smilax in the background.

The bride will enter the drawing room with her father, who will give her away. Her wedding gown is an exquisite affair of white satin charmeuse trimmed with ducness lace and embroidered in pearls. She will have a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley and white daisies, and her veil of illusion will be festooned with orange blossoms. Miss Annie F. Hoge, who will attend her sister as maid of honor, will be gowned in yellow hand-made children's drapes over gold-colored satin. She will carry purple lilies. Miss Alice Blair Hoge and Miss Martha Roberts, wearing soft frocks of white silk trimmed in shadow of white and blue, and little Randolph Hoge and Harrison Hoge, in white costumes, will hold the ribbons. Conrad Johnson will be the groom's best man.

The wedding is one of the most important functions of the early summer season and a number of prominent guests from a distance are in Richmond to attend the ceremony. They include Professor and Mrs. Edmund Harrison, of Greensboro, N. C.; Mrs. Thomas Shupe, of Hopkinsville, Ky.; Mrs. W. R. Robinson, of the Shiloh, corner of Third and Cary Streets.

Interesting Announcement.

Says the Raleigh Times of last Saturday:

"To-day at her home in Hillsboro Street, Mrs. John C. Drewry entertained at a luncheon given to announce the engagement of her daughter, Miss Rennie Louise Drewry, to James Gordon Jones, of Winston-Salem, N. C."

Covers were laid for sixteen. The round table was decorated in green and white, the centerpiece being a large basket filled with white sweetpeas and maidenhair fern. The handle of the basket was tied with a big bow of white tulle. Each guest's place was marked by an attractive hand-painted card.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Carrington Dame, as maid of honor. Miss Dame wore pink crepe, and carried a shower of white lilies. The bridesmaids were Miss Lucy Cushing Dame, sister of the bride; Lizzie Watt, Elizabeth Watkins and Corintha Saunders. They wore lingerie dresses and carried pink sweet peas. George Watt was ring bearer, and the groomsmen included Preston E. Watt, Alexander H. Shafer, Marshall R. Gilliam and George E. Haw.

Mr. and Mrs. Watt left at once for wedding trip North. Guests from a distance attending the ceremony were Mrs. M. C. Saunders and Miss Margaret Saunders, of Norfolk; Dr. and Mrs. William Meredith, of Hanover; Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Grover, of Parsons, Va.; Mrs. H. E. Gilliam and daughter, of Newmarket, Ind.

An informal reception was given to the bride and her party at the home of the bride on Monday evening immediately after the rehearsal.

Pupils' Recital.

At the closing exercises of Miss Katharine Edwards' primary school, a most attractive program of music, recitations and original compositions was rendered by the pupils. Prizes were awarded to Louise Matern and Dorothy Young for conduct and to Deane Labenberg for attendance. Honorable mention was given Mena Mitterdorfer for leading the advanced class during the year and to Charles M. Edwards, Jr., for leading the same class in examination. In the first year, Elsie Well led her class in song, while Sarah Walton and Louise F. Matern on their examinations.

In and Out of Town.

Mrs. C. C. Walker has returned to Richmond after spending ten days at the Holland Hotel, in New York City.

Miss Ethel Whittier left town last week for Annapolis, where she is attending the finals of the United States Naval Academy.

Mrs. Edward Baird has taken a cottage at Blue Ridge Summit, where she expects to spend the summer with her children.

Miss Lucille Massey is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Connolly, in Alexandria, this week.

Mrs. Shirley Carter has returned to Norfolk, after spending several days in this city.

Fred Valentine, of this city, is spending several days with friends at the University of Virginia.

Mrs. R. Lancaster Williams and her children will spend the summer months at their cottage at Nantuxet, R. I.

Miss Fanny Hill, of the University of Virginia, is spending this week with relatives on Lombardy Street.

Mrs. Richard I. Manning, of South Carolina, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Preston Cooke, on West Franklin Street.

Mrs. C. C. Woodson, of Tabasco, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. O. M. Hepler, at 119 West Marshall Street.

News of the Eastern Shore.

Cape Charles, Va., June 4.—C. W. Summerfield, president of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association of Philadelphia, arrived in Onancock Monday afternoon. In the evening he addressed the Business Men's Association and others in the Mayor's office. The object of his visit was to cultivate closer business and social relations with the city of Philadelphia.

From every section of the Eastern Shore comes the report that berries were never better and that they are bringing fair prices. According to quality, the prices are better than have been received for strawberries heretofore, except in a few cases. As many as forty cars have been shipped from one station on the N. Y. P. & N. R. R. in one day.

The Jefferson Davis Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will give a dinner to the Confederate veterans of Northampton and Accomack counties on Wednesday in the chapter rooms at Adams Courthouse. Hon. John S. Wise will make an address.

At a meeting of the Farmers' Mutual Exchange at Exmore last week, a reorganization was effected by the election of all the old officers, except the treasurer, his place being filled by S. Claude White, former assistant to the general manager.

Richmond, Va., June 4.—The closing exercises of the Faulkner Normal and Training School took place last night. There were essays and recitations, and Professor Twelver and his assistants were congratulated on the great progress the scholars had made. The real gem of the exercises was the eloquent address to the graduating class, of Hon. Alden Bell, of Culpeper, representative in the Virginia Legislature.

ants will act as the groom's best man. Miss Graves will be gowned in pale pink silk and lace, and will carry a bouquet of pink sweet peas.

A small reception will follow the ceremony, after which Mr. and Mrs. Twining will leave for a Northern wedding trip through the St. Lawrence River and parts of Canada. On their return they will be at home at 611 Hawthorne Avenue, Ginter Park, Out-of-town guests are Mr. and Mrs. James C. Renshaw, of the University of Virginia; Miss Julia Graves, of Bedford City; Miss Allen Martin, of the University of Virginia; and Mrs. Theodore P. Epps, of Blackstone.

At the Hermitage Club.

Yesterday the lady golfers of the Hermitage Golf Club took possession of the links in their monthly mixed tournament, in which each selected a male partner. Golf and tennis are very popular these summer days at the club, and a number of girls go out every morning and afternoon to play.

The spring championship tournament commences to-day and to-morrow, and a great deal of interest is being expressed as to whether the present champion, Miss Avis Grant, will succeed herself.

Stay-at-Home Whist Club.

The Stay-at-Home Whist Club met on Monday evening at the residence of Mrs. C. W. Brock, 205 East Franklin Street. Two tables were engaged, and the highest score was made by Mrs. Robbins and Mrs. Correll. The club will meet next Monday evening with Mrs. W. R. Robbins, at the Shiloh, corner of Third and Cary Streets.
